

Media Release

May 1, 2012
Release, Immediate

Today, the NATIONAL DEFENSE PAC announced its endorsement of Patrick Murray for election to the United States Congress, representing the great Commonwealth of Virginia's 8th District. NATIONAL DEFENSE PAC, Chairman, Rear Admiral James J. Carey, USN (ret), stated, "Patrick Murray has the full support of the NDPAC for election to the US Congress."

Murray served our country in the US Army in numerous tours around the world, first as an Armor Officer and later as a Foreign Area Officer in the Defense Intelligence Agency including tours in Bosnia, Herzegovina, Kosovo and Serbia where he was the Defense Attaché in the American Embassy. He, also, deployed to Bagdad during the 'surge' where he served on the staff of General David Petraeus. This list of accomplishments has proven his patriotism. His personal history attests to his leadership and intelligence.

Pat knows that our military is being stretched too thin. He understands that spending must be prioritized effectively and expended efficiently.

Pat is aware that the current Administration and Congress have been deficit spending with reckless abandon with projected deficits in excess of $1.3 Trillion Dollars, annually, for the next decade. He is committed to bringing our nations' fiscal house in order, defined as bringing annual expenditures with the cap of the annual federal income, and to do so by cutting spending, not by raising taxes.

Patrick Murray's understanding of world events and foreign affairs, his personal knowledge of the military and his proven record as a patriot make his a supremely qualified person to represent the 8th District of the Commonwealth of Virginia in the United States Congress. We need Patrick Murray in Congress.

###

Contact:
Mackie Christenson,
Executive Director
National Defense PAC
703-350-0184